

Walk From Willington To Great Barford

Near the Danish Camp - <https://danishcamp.co.uk/>

Parking address: Chapel Ln, Willington, Bedford MK44 3QG

Parking: The Danish camp has a good free parking area - if you intend to be one of their customers (Cafe, boat hire, etc.). Otherwise you should park on the road outside. Plenty of nearby space with no yellow lines just beyond the road corners. See pics below.

The yellow lines are only at road corners.

Walk: From the Danish camp at Willington there are at least three very pleasant walks you can take near to the River Ouse.

This walk is from Willington to Great Barford and back again. It takes about 3/4 - 1 hour to walk each way.

To do the walk simply walk past the Danish camp along the tarmac path keeping the river on your left. As our video shows this will take you past a weir and lock, along farmers fields, over a couple of small wooden bridges, and then across a large, green steel one. The river stays in view all the way along.

At the end of the walk you can sit on the green by the Great Barford bridge where people take to their canoes, or visit The Anchor pub where you can get a meal or a pint to enjoy at the pub, or to take across the road to drink beside the river.

Food and drink:

The Anchor is the perfect place to eat or get refreshment at the half-way point of this walk - before setting off back again.
